

Main current Research areas (in the field of intelligent energy systems)

- Control infrastructures for distributed energy systems
- ICT in distributed power systems
- Control of intelligent buildings
- Control of embedded generation in distribution grid
- Simulation of active distribution grids
- Integration of RE in particular wind energy
- Control of electric vehicles, associated infrastructure and interoperability
- Demand side participation: control strategies, infrastructures, market integration